

Central Brooklyn CSA

What is a CSA? CSA stands for Community Supported Agriculture where a community partners with local farmers. The Central Brooklyn CSA connects the Crown Heights and Bed-Stuy communities with Windflower Farm in Upstate New York.

The Central Brooklyn CSA is offering pre-boxed weekly vegetables directly from the farmer, with optional fruits, eggs, and flowers. To reduce food handling and minimize risk, packing will be performed at clean facilities and pick-up sites will follow a sanitary distribution protocol.

For 22 weeks starting in June, Central Brooklyn CSA members can pick up a generous weekly share of vegetables, with optional fruits, eggs, and flowers, every Thursday (or every other Thursday for half share members).
